Foreword

Rotherham's Libraries provide a wide variety of services to adults and children who live, learn, work in or visit Rotherham and we know that the service is valued by those who use it. This document sets out our future plans for the development of the Library Service. It builds on and replaces the Council's successful Library Strategy 2011 - 2015.

Our vision for Rotherham Libraries is that:

- ❖ Our libraries are well used, cost effective and responsive to changing customer needs, available technologies and resources;
- ❖ The services we offer and enable will reflect the needs and make up of Rotherham communities;
- ❖ We will inspire Rotherham's children, young people and their families to enjoy reading and develop their knowledge and skills, so that they are able to improve their quality of life and have an opportunity to realise their full potential;
- ❖ Located in the heart of Rotherham's communities, our libraries will be recognised neighbourhood hubs, offering welcoming spaces and providing access to modern digital technology;
- ❖ Our staff will help to bridge the digital divide by supporting Rotherham communities to get online and explore all the benefits that being online brings.

Our challenge is to deliver good and improving library services across the borough during a period of financial stringency. The Council is committed to providing library services across the borough, but the need for budget reductions means that the service will have to do things differently and will need to continue to adapt to new technologies and ways of working when responding to the needs and aspirations of our customers.

This strategy recommends that the Council reaffirms its commitment to providing library facilities in the heart of our communities.

However, we recognise that in order for us to deliver services whilst facing significantly reduced budgets we will need to use our buildings more effectively and will require continued help from volunteers, community members and our partners to achieve success. Delivery of some aspects of the strategy will therefore be dependent on the public's ongoing commitment to the Library Service.

I would like to thank all those who contributed to the development of this Strategy, particularly those who responded to the public consultation during the summer of 2016. Their comments are included throughout this document. I believe this is an ambitious, yet realistic, strategy and core service offer when set in the context of ongoing pressures on public finances.

Councillor Yasseen, Cabinet Member

2. Introduction

2.1 Background

Rotherham's Library Service provides libraries in the heart of communities across the borough. It offers a wide range of books, e-books and other materials for loan, provides free access to computers and to the internet and also provides a range of activities and events. These activities include helping people to use computers for the first time, helping people to get a job, introducing children to stories and picture books, providing opportunities for children and adults to mix with others and helping families to learn new skills.

"People should have the right to a local library."

The net cost of Rotherham's Library Service was £3,259,184 in 2014/15 and it employed 71.7 full time equivalent staff at the end of March 2015.

2.2 The Local Authority Statutory Duty

Rotherham Libraries deliver a statutory service, as directed by the Public Libraries and Museums Act 1964. This Act states that the Local Authority has a responsibility to provide a free, comprehensive and efficient library service for all who wish to use it. The Act requires the Council to provide facilities for borrowing books and other material and states that Local Authorities must encourage adults and children to make full use of the service.

The Secretary of State has the power to intervene if he believes that the Local Authority is not providing a 'comprehensive and efficient' service.

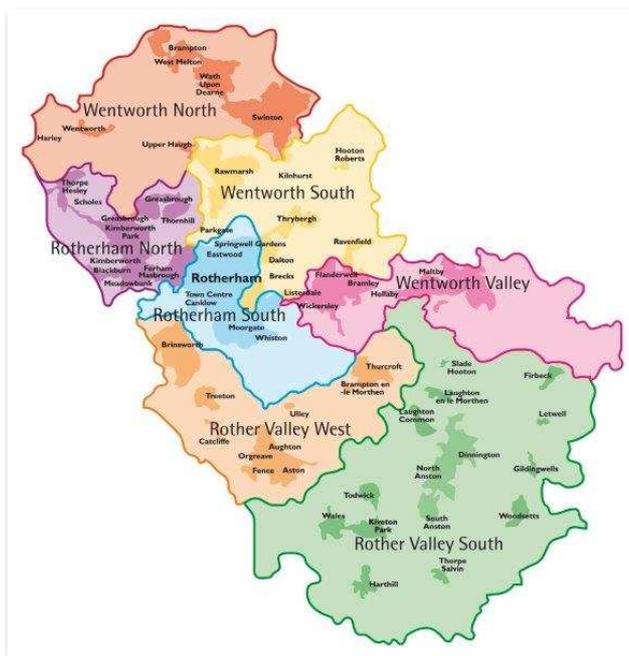

Whilst the core library service is free under the Act, the Local Government and Housing Act 1980 and Library Charges (England and Wales) Regulations 1991 give Library Authorities the power to make charges for the provision of some library services.

2.3 Rotherham's local demographic profile

The needs of those people who live, work and study in Rotherham have been considered when developing the Library Strategy 2016 - 2019 and underpin the principles we will follow.

The Library Service will provide a universal offer to all residents, but will ensure that this offer is flexible to meet the needs of specific Rotherham communities and Rotherham people.

Rotherham is one of four metropolitan boroughs in South Yorkshire, covering an area of 118 square miles. Rotherham is made up of a mix of urban areas, suburbs and rural villages, interspersed with large areas of open countryside. About 70% of the borough is rural with about half of the land used for agriculture. Our libraries will be located across the borough, so that people can obtain the service easily close to their own communities. When people cannot visit one of our static sites we will assist and enable them to access the service in a variety of other ways, including providing services online or in partnership with others.

There is a strong community spirit in Rotherham, with people working together to do their best for families and communities. The Library Service offer provides opportunities for people to mix together in an informal environment and to participate in activities and events which celebrate different neighbourhoods and different communities. Our libraries will act as neighbourhood hubs, bringing communities together and providing a focal point for local service provision.

12% of Rotherham’s population lives in rural areas. About half of the Borough’s population lives in and around the main urban area of Rotherham and the remainder live in a number of smaller towns - Wath, Swinton, Dinnington and Maltby and in many surrounding villages. All libraries work with partners and other Council services to enable local people to access a range of services close to where they live.

In 2014 Rotherham’s population was estimated to be 260,100. The borough comprises a diverse mix of people, cultures and communities and has an ageing population.

Over the next 30 years there will be an additional 20,000 residents over the age of 65, and a relative decline in the younger population. There are approximately 56,100 children and young people living within the borough currently, of whom 16,000 are aged 0 – 4.

The Library Service will provide access to reading in all its many forms, for children, adults and families, delivered in engaging and innovative ways. Our libraries will be welcoming spaces for all and will offer activities which will help to combat social isolation and support the elderly to live well in their local communities.

“[Libraries] are a vital resource for any community, a safe welcoming space for people to access information, to encourage reading and knowledge amongst young and old alike. Also they are a vital resource in this digital age for anyone who needs help with accessing services via the internet.”

In 2015, Rotherham was ranked 52nd most deprived out of 326 English Districts and a third of the population live in deprived areas. The key drivers of deprivation are health and disability, education, training and skills and employment. The Library Service will continue to work with partners to help reduce deprivation levels across the borough.

Libraries will provide opportunities for people to improve their literacy skills, provide access to skills based training which is linked to improving employment, provide access to ICT and access to advice and support from partner services. Our libraries will also provide opportunities for apprenticeships and for people to volunteer.

Rotherham’s Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) population is relatively small, but has been growing and becoming increasingly diverse. 8.1% of the population belonged to ethnic groups other than White British in the 2011 census. The majority of Rotherham’s BME residents were born abroad (55%) and are far more likely to have limited English language skills.

Within Rotherham, BME communities are particularly concentrated in Eastwood, Ferham, Masborough, Wellgate and Broom Valley, which are mainly deprived areas close to the town centre. These were the early settlement areas for the Kashmiri and Pakistani community and recently for the Roma community. Since 2001, there has been some migration of the Pakistani and Kashmiri community to the more suburban areas of Broom and Moorgate.

The Library Service will provide materials in other languages and will provide support for those people who need help to improve their language skills, or to find out more about their local community.

The 2011 census identified that 21.9% of Rotherham’s population had a limiting long term illness. This is higher than the national average of 17.6%. 895 people in Rotherham are on the blind register and 1290 people are on the partially sighted register. The majority of blind and partially sighted people are over 65 years old. There are 265 people living in Rotherham who are on the deaf register and 1,005 people on the hard of hearing register.

Rotherham Libraries will offer a wide range of stock for loan, including large print, spoken word and easy read material and the service will provide information and support to enable people to live well for longer.

Rotherham has an above average number of people providing unpaid care, with 31,001 people identified as carers in the 2011 census. Rotherham Libraries will work with our partners to provide information, activities and support to carers.

There are approximately 46,310 people in Rotherham who do not have access to the internet. This estimate is based on ONS data for South Yorkshire, which indicates that 82% of the population in South Yorkshire has access to the internet.

Our libraries will support these people by providing free access to computers, free public Wi-Fi and activities and support for people to improve their digital skills or access services online.

2.4 Local context and local policies

The Library Strategy is aligned to the outcomes from the ‘Views of Rotherham’ community workshops, held in 2015. It supports delivery of Rotherham’s Improvement Plan and Corporate Plan, which focuses on our key priorities:

- ❖ Every child making the best start in life;
- ❖ Every adult secure, responsible and empowered;
- ❖ A strong community in a clean, safe environment;
- ❖ Extending opportunity, prosperity and planning for the future; and
- ❖ Running a modern, efficient Council.

Rotherham Libraries work closely with partners and community groups and this enables us to deliver improved and additional services. There are wide ranging examples of such work - including close working with adult learning groups; working in partnership with teachers; working with Rotherham United Football Club to deliver sports activities; working with Public Health England to deliver health and wellbeing activities; working with the advice sector to provide guidance and support for Rotherham residents and working closely with other local authority services to enhance service delivery for Rotherham’s adults, children and young people.

Rotherham’s Library Service encourages the use of volunteers and young volunteers and recognises the added value that volunteers bring by offering their time, skills,

“Volunteering was the perfect opportunity for me as it built my confidence and gave me the experience I needed to start off my career. It helped me to apply for jobs as it made me confident in applying and I was able to seek support from the library with applications and was given a glowing reference. I was also introduced to other trained teachers in ESOL that had been teaching for many years so this gave me the opportunities to meet experienced people in the field I wished to start my career in. Through the support I have received I have been able to secure a full time job.”

experience and commitment. Our Volunteer Guide provides direction to our volunteers and staff members, enabling them to effectively undertake their duties.

Rotherham’s Stock procedures guide the way the local authority buys library books and other library materials. Most of our stock is bought via a North West and Yorkshire book buying consortium comprising 35 authorities. This ensures we are able to buy new material at the best price and we achieve significant discounts on stock purchases. The service buys stock throughout the year, in a wide range of media, and regularly reviews usage so that we can be sure that we are meeting the needs of our service users. In 2015/16, Rotherham Libraries held 270,326 items of stock for public use. The current annual budget available for stock purchases is £277,664. This budget is reviewed annually.

2.5 Key Stakeholders

Rotherham citizens, businesses, councillors, partners of the Library Service, our staff members and our volunteers are key stakeholders in this strategy. The strategy has been developed following feedback from service users, non-users, council staff and our partners.

Research has also been carried out to determine the likely future trends in service provision. This includes both the use of social media and developments in technologies which provide us with opportunities to develop services to new audiences.

2.6 National context

Other than the statutory duty, there are no longer national standards for library provision. As a result, library services across the country are delivered in different ways and services are shaped by local policy, customer need and available resources.

Since the publication of Rotherham’s previous Library Strategy in 2011, a number of national initiatives are guiding and informing national provision of library services.

“Libraries need to have a USP, a brand, a new concept.”

A range of ‘Universal Offers’ have been developed by the Society of Chief Librarians (SCL) in partnership with Arts Council England and these were launched in 2013/14. The offers have been informed by customer research and the service that users should expect to receive relating to the key areas of health, digital, reading, information, learning and children. Rotherham’s Library Strategy takes account of our commitment to implementing the Universal Offers.

The Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) is responsible for national library policy and works closely with Arts Council England (ACE) on a range of issues and on developing the sector. Libraries are able to access grants and support from Arts Council England. These grants enable authorities to test new approaches to library service delivery, specifically by working together with arts and other cultural organisations.

The Society of Chief Librarians (SCL) leads and manages public libraries in the United Kingdom. The Society is made up of the heads of service of each library authority. Rotherham Libraries are represented on this body and play an active role in the Yorkshire and Humber region.

In 2012/13, Arts Council England led a programme of research and debate known as 'Envisioning the library of the future'. This programme helped to develop a long term vision for public libraries in England. The findings from this research focused on four priority areas for development, which were:

- ❖ Place the library as the hub of the community;
- ❖ Make the most of digital technology and creative media;
- ❖ Ensure libraries are resilient and sustainable;
- ❖ Deliver the right skills for those who work in libraries

This research has been used to guide the themes which underpin delivery of Rotherham's Library Strategy 2016 - 2019.

In 2014, central government commissioned William Sieghart to investigate how the public library system could best work in the future. Recommendations from this work have now evolved into the development of a Libraries Task Force, led by Local Government.

The task force is responsible for providing leadership and nationally reinvigorating public libraries. Rotherham Libraries, in conjunction with the Society of Chief Librarians, will work closely with the task group to implement its priorities, including:

- ❖ Digital enablement – including the provision of universal Wi-Fi access, e-lending, digital shared networks and quality content;
- ❖ Libraries adding value – making stronger, strategic links between libraries and other policies such as Health and Wellbeing, business and economic growth;
- ❖ Best practice – developing a toolkit which will help Local Authorities and library services through sharing and linking to existing and new best practice and building sustainable long term models for libraries;
- ❖ Workforce development – identifying the skills needed to help the library workforce deliver and take on new roles as part of wider service provision;
- ❖ Communications – promoting recognition and support for libraries.

3. Rotherham Libraries - Current Position

3.1 Our Service Locations

There are 15 libraries located across the borough. Currently 98% of Rotherham residents are able to access a library within 2 miles of their home.

“Libraries are key to encouraging learning and for communities to feel valued.”

Our largest Library and Customer Service Centre is located at Riverside House in Rotherham’s town centre. The Library @ Riverside holds our biggest collection and range of lending material in the borough, houses heritage and arts items and has indoor and outdoor performance spaces for events and activities, including readings, music recitals, theatre and comedy. Customer Service provision is available here, together with free access to public Wi-Fi, public computers, and a wide range of skills development activities.

There are five Joint Service Centres across the borough, which provide residents with access to a wide range of public sector services, including NHS, leisure and social care facilities. A large library facility is available in four of these Joint Service Centres, located in Aston, Dinnington, Rawmarsh and Swinton. These sites offer free access to computers, public Wi-Fi, digital skills training, supported access to most council services and a community meeting space.

Rotherham has a further ten community libraries, ranging in their size and reach, depending on the make-up of each local community. These are based in Brinsworth, Greasbrough, Kimberworth, Kiveton Park, Maltby, Mowbray Gardens, Thorpe Hesley, Thurcroft, Wath and Wickersley.

These libraries also offer free access to computers, public Wi-Fi, digital skills training and community meeting spaces.

The Service also provides vehicle based services, predominantly to the elderly, and a School Loan Service, which offers resources to support schools.

Rotherham Libraries also provide a digital library service, which enables people to access us online 24/7/365. Users can join the library, download e-books and other digital resources, reserve or renew books online and engage with us through social media.

3.2 Our customers – current and future

“Reading is a massive part of my life, and it should be part of everyone’s.”

719,827 visits were made to our libraries in 2015/16. Visitors included people attending courses or clubs; using the library as a space to meet others; using computers to access the internet; accessing council services; using the library as a quiet space to read; do homework or complete research and those wanting to borrow books. 22,472 people borrowed a total of 535,194 books or other material from us in 2015/16 - approximately 9% of Rotherham’s residents.

Customer satisfaction levels have been regularly assessed. In 2015/16, 96.7% of customers told us that they were satisfied with the level of service we provided.

The number of visitors has reduced in some of our libraries. This is due to many factors, including relocating the Central Library away from Rotherham Town Centre, an increase in the availability of low cost e-books, many people using the internet instead of libraries to find information quickly and also significantly because of a reduction in the level of our marketing and outreach.

Usage of libraries is declining nationally. CIPFA statistics indicate that there has been a 14% decline in visits to libraries between 2010 and 2015. In Rotherham, there has been a 24% decline in visits to our libraries over the same period.

However, this is not the case everywhere, as some individual libraries, both locally and nationally, have not seen a decline in usage.

During recent consultation, people who don’t use our libraries were asked questions around why they didn’t use the service and what would encourage them to do so. This identified a lack of awareness related to the services on offer, including free Wi-Fi, e-books and IT classes and a resultant need to improve the profile of the service amongst local residents.

Over the next few years the service will work closely with local authorities, trusts, mutual and community managed sites that are successfully increasing their visitor numbers and book loans. This will enable us to review best practice and improve our ways of working. To have a sustainable future, Rotherham Libraries will continue to focus on the needs of individual local communities, widen our appeal and attract more customers.

3.3 The changing face of Rotherham Libraries

In 2012/13, the Library and Information Service merged with Customer Services to create a larger and more economical service area. The merger of these services has already achieved savings of over £1.25 million from their combined budgets. The new service area is known as Rotherham Libraries and Neighbourhood Hubs.

The merger between Libraries and the Council's Customer Services function means that customers can now access more services from one place. Whilst implementing the merger we have restructured our workforce and have greater staff flexibility and a reinforced focus on outcome based service delivery. Our staff members are knowledgeable, skilled, customer orientated and flexible. We have also recruited a number of excellent volunteers who support us in enhancing the services that we offer.

Since the last Strategy was published, in 2011, in full consultation with our customers, we have revised our library opening hours, changed our mobile library routes and have closed Kimberworth Park Library.

We have continued to invest in our library buildings. We have opened our flagship Library @ Riverside and a brand new library and customer services area within our Joint Service Centre at Rawmarsh. We have also modernised Kimberworth, Dinnington and Aston Libraries and have merged the Library and Customer Service Centre into one building at Swinton.

"I feel it is vital for the library service to adapt to customers changing needs and to make good use of the available new technologies and resources."

In common with most libraries nationally, Rotherham Libraries have focused on digital developments which have helped us to improve customer accessibility and modernise our service. We offer free downloadable e books, have begun to actively use social media and have introduced electronic notifications, so that we can be responsive to customer needs and increase our customer reach.

We have also included the library service in the Council's single customer account – 'Your Account', meaning that Rotherham residents have online access to a range of council services using a single user identification and password.

In addition, we have installed self-service kiosks in many of our libraries, eliminating counter queues and releasing staff onto the library floor. We have upgraded our People’s Network computer facilities so that our customers have a choice of using tablets and laptops as well as traditional computers and we have recently installed free public Wi-Fi in all our libraries as we are aware that many of our customers wish to utilise their own devices when visiting us.

We have redesigned the ground floor of Riverside House in order to deliver an improved customer experience and support additional services.

Working in partnership with others, we help many people to learn new skills or develop existing ones. Activities such as learning ICT skills, work clubs, English classes for speakers of other languages, family learning and staying healthy sessions are regularly run in our libraries.

In addition we deliver outreach sessions, enabling us to support more customers.

Our local service delivery offer has been revised in line with newly introduced national library offers, as detailed below:

3.4 SWOT analysis 2016

Strengths of the service

- ❖ There is a network of libraries located in the heart of communities which have free Wi-Fi, internet access and a good range of lending stock;
- ❖ Many libraries are already co-located, creating a one stop shop for public services;
- ❖ Merger of Libraries and Customer Services creates an efficient, economical service;
- ❖ Strong partnership links exist;
- ❖ Universal offers are already embedded within the local service offer;
- ❖ Helpful and knowledgeable Library and Customer Services staff are well positioned to support customers.

Weaknesses in the service

- ❖ There is a lack of outreach and marketing activity taking place within the service as a result of reduced staffing budgets;
- ❖ Insufficient analysis of the reasons that visitor numbers are in overall decline;
- ❖ Volunteer recruitment is not embedded within the service;
- ❖ Staff training programmes need further development to ensure specialist skills are retained.

Opportunities for the service

- ❖ A review of all current buildings and locations to identify barriers to access, and potential for relocations and modernisation of buildings in order to improve service delivery and make better use of resources;
- ❖ Work with Children and Young People's Services, schools, academies, children's centres and borough wide partners to contribute to the development of a child centred borough;

- ❖ Work with colleagues in Adult Care and Housing to improve the offer for vulnerable adults and to explore the potential for co-located and co-delivered services;
- ❖ Work with colleagues in Public Health to develop opportunities to improve wellbeing and mental health;
- ❖ Improve access to library services within Rotherham Town Centre;
- ❖ Build on previous investment to develop libraries as digital hubs within Rotherham communities, enabling all Rotherham's residents to access online services;
- ❖ Make creative and innovative use of technology to deliver improved services;
- ❖ Bid for external funding in order to develop new ways of working;
- ❖ Explore alternative delivery models; including the potential to co-locate with others;
- ❖ Work with voluntary, public and private sector colleagues, including neighbouring authorities, to develop new and innovative partnership working and co-delivered or commissioned services,
- ❖ Participate in the review of neighbourhood working in order to identify further potential for libraries to develop their role as neighbourhood hubs and to contribute to social cohesion.
- ❖ Adopt a commercial approach to service delivery, identifying opportunities for working closely with local businesses

Threats to the service

- ❖ Reductions in budgets may compromise the ability to provide a comprehensive service, available to all;
- ❖ Inability to recruit and retain volunteers within the service will impact on the service offer which can be provided;
- ❖ The Service has recently undergone significant change and this is expected to continue over the next few years. The Service must retain the appropriate skills and capacity to deliver this change.

4. Consultation

Consultation on this Strategy, vision, and core service offer, took place between the 17th March and 13th June, 2016. Comments were invited using printed forms in all Libraries and Customer Service Centres, online via the Council's website, via a dedicated email address and in person at a range of meetings and drop in sessions. In addition, consultation took place with non-users of the service. 606 questionnaires were received from individuals, the majority being current library users.

The vast majority of respondents (85%) were in agreement with the principles outlined in the vision. 94% of respondents also agreed with the proposal to keep all current static sites open, many commenting that Libraries are essential community hubs. Those who disagreed with the proposal suggested that there should be fewer, but better resourced, libraries.

87% of respondents agreed with the core service offer, with 89% agreeing with the proposal to work with volunteers, partners and community groups to help deliver additional services and activities in libraries. 21% of those who agreed with the proposal would be willing to volunteer in some way. 59% of those who disagreed with the proposal said that volunteers should not replace paid staff.

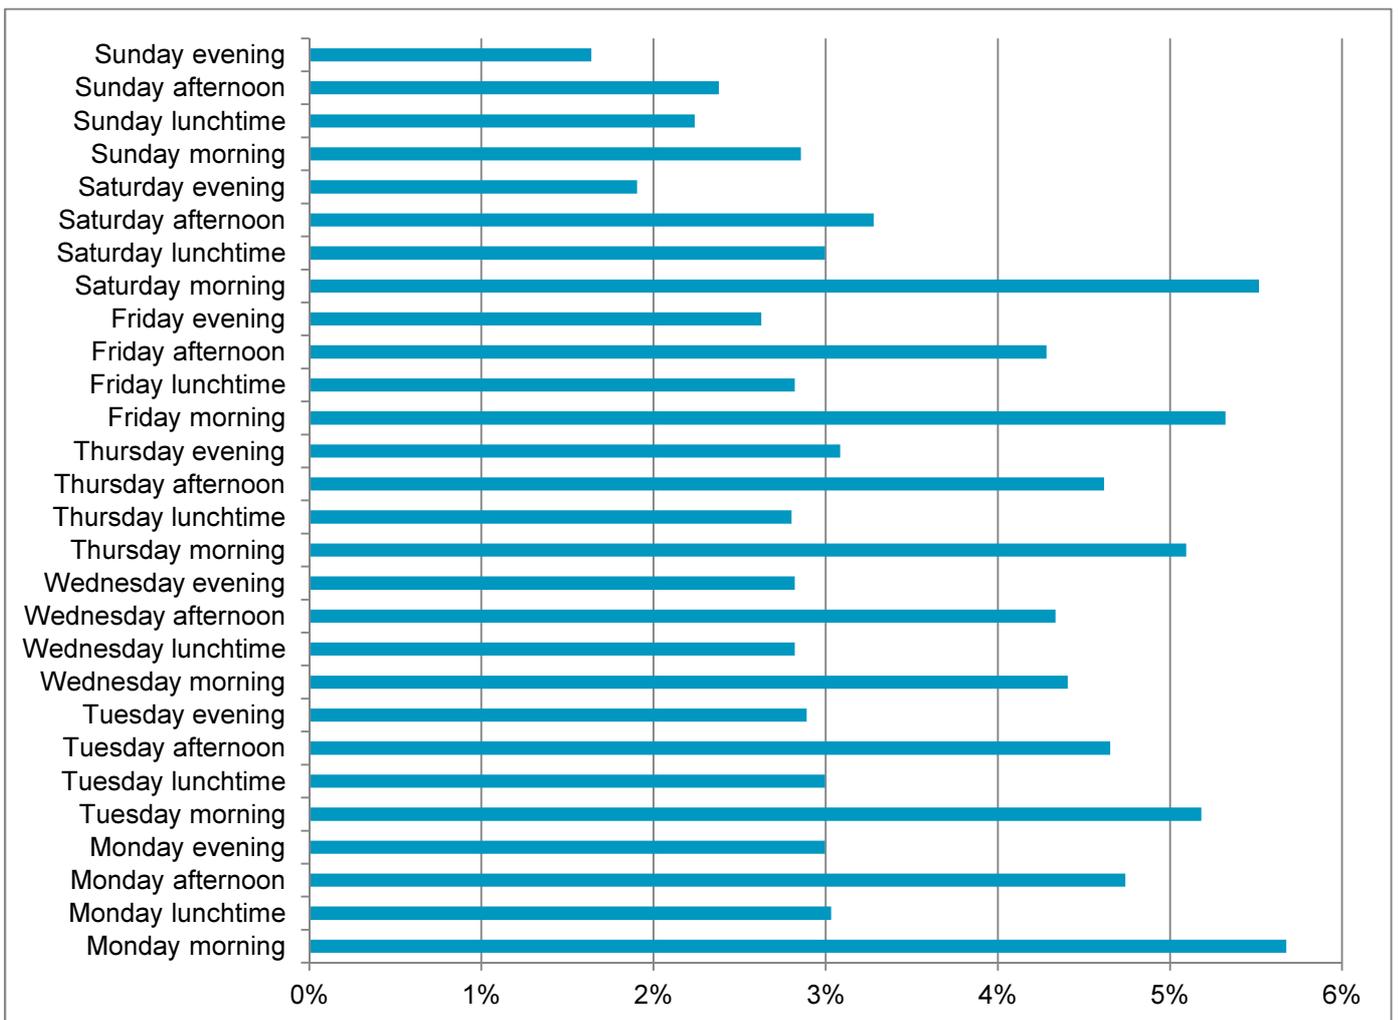

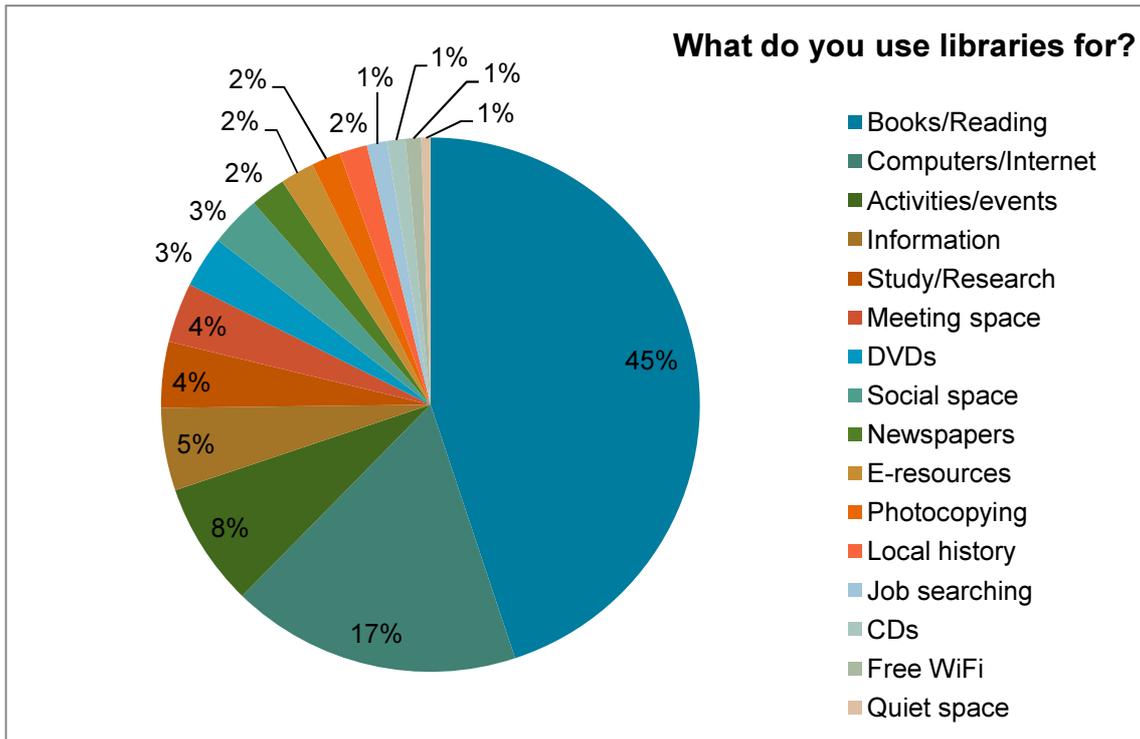

64% of respondents disagreed with the proposal to operate libraries with fewer staff during certain times of the day; the majority were worried about the impact on customer care/service quality.

82% of respondents agreed with our proposal to generate income within libraries, and made suggestions as to how money could be raised.

95% of respondents agreed with the proposal to continue with the redevelopment of libraries as modern, welcoming spaces.

Where appropriate, the Strategy and core offer have been amended in line with consultation feedback. Comments from individual have been included throughout this strategy.

Customers also told us why they use libraries and when they would prefer to use them:

- ❖ Inspiring a love of reading and providing opportunities to learn skills for life;
- ❖ Developing our libraries as welcoming, easily accessible, attractive places at the heart of Rotherham's communities;
- ❖ Using modern digital solutions to improve service delivery and develop Rotherham libraries as digital hubs;

Roles and responsibilities

The Assistant Director for Culture, Sport and Tourism is the sponsor and strategy lead and the Libraries and Neighbourhood Hubs Manager is the operational lead for delivering the Library Strategy 2016 - 2019.

Progress will be monitored by the Regeneration and Environment Directorate Management team and progress against specific actions will be reported within the Council's Corporate Plan.

Finances

Successful implementation of the Action Plan will support a comprehensive and efficient library service, whilst also achieving budgetary reductions. We will regularly evaluate the cost of services and look for opportunities to reduce service costs whilst also continuing to meet customer needs.

We will also work with other partners and services to identify opportunities for us to assist them in making better use of their financial resources.

Resources will need to be allocated to deliver the plan. This includes finance, technology, people and skills. A variety of funding sources have been identified to support its delivery. These include the Council's capital programme, existing service budgets and grants. The funding implications for this Strategy have been incorporated into the Council's Medium Term Financial Strategy.

Future additional investment will be required to implement additional self-service functionality and enable a greater shift towards self-service. This investment will support the realisation of longer term savings within the authority. The investments will be determined by clear business cases, which demonstrate improved service delivery and reduced costs.
