7.1 Background

The Local Democracy Campaign (LDC) is supported by the Local Government Association (LGA) is and about getting young people more involved with, and aware of, their local council. Research for the LGA by Ipsos MORI shows that just a quarter of 11-16 year olds believe that their local councillor is the best person to approach in order to change something in their community. The same research shows that just one in three 11-16 year olds have ever met a councillor or MP, and states that those who have are much more likely to express feelings of political engagement and interest.

The LDC therefore is aimed at bringing politicians and young people closer together through various networking events. The main focal point for the campaign is Local Democracy Week (LDW) which takes place during October each year and involves councils and schools across the country taking part in various events to promote democracy in their area. The Local Democracy Week in 2011 is taking place between 10th and 16th October and includes activities such as the 'launch of the Youth Cabinet Manifesto', 'Panel Discussion on Campaigning', 'Political Speed Dating', 'Top Dog Challenge' and 'Take your Councillor to School'.

7.2 Local Democracy Campaign Activities

Rotherham has been celebrating LDW for 6 years now, with many different events taking place across the borough. See Appendix 1 for an outline of all the events that have taken place since April 2011 to date.

The 2010/11 programme was a fantastic success and saw a much greater enthusiasm and involvement across the whole council than in previous years and this year's (2011/12) campaign is continuing in the same vain. It seems the Local Democracy message through the 'One Town One Community' vision is spreading and more people are seeing the potential these events can have on citizenship, cohesion and community empowerment, as well as improving understanding and awareness in Rotherham of the Council and roles of local councillors.

Although the target group for LDC and LDW is 11 – 16 year olds, a number of events have also taken place within primary schools across the borough in previous years, as well as colleges. The Local Democracy Campaign in Rotherham is aimed at everyone; the Cabinet Member for Community Development, Equalities and Young People's Issues has strongly advocated that democracy affects everyone which is why we have taken a much more open approach towards including activities.

The Local Democracy Week and Campaign 2011/12 includes a diverse range of activities ranging from mainstream activities in our Voice and Influence Unit in the Young People Services and Area Assemblies to externally funded activities such as VAR activities, Parliamentary Outreach Service, Golden 7 Project and Tackling Race Inequalities Funding, which have added value to our existing activities such as Area Assemblies, VCS organisations and One Town One Community activities.

8. Finance

The costs of running the existing events that comprise LDW have been met from within current resources and external funding, and the programme should be continued subject to mainstream resources been maintained in this challenging climate.

9. Risks and Uncertainties

There is a risk that some of the local people and vulnerable groups will continue to be disengaged, if we do not engage them in our political and democratic processes.

10. Policy and Performance Agenda Implications

New guidance emerging across a range of community empowerment and engagement issues is being reflected in the new Localism Bill and the Big Society.

The Localism Bill is seeking to put an end to the hoarding of power within central government and top-down control of communities, allowing local people the freedom to run their lives and neighbourhoods in their own way. The Bill contains a radical package of reforms that seeks to devolve greater power and freedoms to councils and neighbourhoods, establish powerful new rights for communities, revolutionise the planning system, and give communities control over housing decisions.

The Big Society is about helping people to come together to improve their own lives. It's about putting more power in people's hands – a massive transfer of power from Whitehall to local communities.

There are three key parts to the Big Society agenda:

• Community empowerment: giving local councils and neighbourhoods more power to take decisions and shape their area. Planning reforms lead by DCLG, will replace the old top-down planning system with real power for neighbourhoods to decide the future of their area.

- Opening up public services: our public service reforms will enable charities, social enterprises, private companies and employee-owned cooperatives to compete to offer people high quality services.
- Social action: encouraging and enabling people to play a more active part in society. National Citizen Service, Community Organisers and Community First will encourage people to get involved in their communities.

On a local level, engaging communities and ensuring no community is left behind by talking and listening to all our customers and treating everyone fairly and with respect is a council priority through the Corporate Plan.
