

The Workplace Wellbeing Charter

The story so far...

The Charter

The Workplace Wellbeing Charter is an opportunity for employers to demonstrate their commitment to the health and well-being of their workforce.

The Charter provides employers with an easy and clear guide on how to make workplaces a supportive and productive environment in which employees can flourish.

It provides a clear set of wellbeing standards, taking a holistic approach that includes physical and mental health, health promotion and ways to evaluate the services and information you are offering. It also aims to share best practice about health and wellbeing within the workplace.

The Charter focuses on three key areas - leadership, culture and communication - where even small steps can make a big difference to the health of staff, and therefore the profitability of an organisation.

The Workplace Wellbeing Charter is open to all and comes in three levels, each containing different standards that need to be achieved. Some, or all, will be relevant, depending on the size and direction of the organisation.

The support offered in Liverpool consists of:

- An initial meeting with a professional workplace health advisor to discuss the different levels, the organisation's current health and wellbeing activity, and to decide which level to aim for.
- An in-depth consultation to identify gaps in the workplace health strategy and offer advice and support to ensure a holistic approach to health, safety and wellbeing and the achievement of the Charter standards.
- Charter accreditation meeting; a trained consultant will review the collated evidence and talk to staff about their experience of health, safety and wellbeing within their workplace.

The story so far

The development of the Charter was a recommendation from the University of Liverpool's Health is Wealth Commission's final report in 2009.

Liverpool Primary Care Trust identified an opportunity to develop a product that could be used to stimulate positive change among employers and subsequently worked with Health@Work to design, develop and deliver the Charter across Liverpool.

The Workplace Wellbeing Charter was launched in Liverpool in April 2010 as part of the Year of Health and Wellbeing, driven forward by Liverpool PCT and Liverpool City Council.

In the first year 56 organisations were accredited

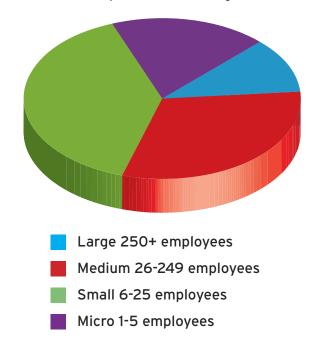

Between April 2011 and March 2012 126 organisations were accredited

Between April 2012 and March 2013 185 organisations will be accredited

Health@Work has also been delivering the Charter in Ashton, Leigh and Wigan on behalf of Active Wigan and the Primary Care Trust, since April 2012. This is the start of a three year programme that will result in 120 organisations being accredited.

What the clients have to say...

96% used the Charter to demonstrate their commitment to health

Employers agreed there were very high levels of awareness of the intervention

83% have directly benefitted from the programme

The top benefits identified are:

- Levels of awareness and activity regarding health and wellbeing increased
- Staff morale increased
- Improved policies and procedures

"It has opened management's eyes to happy healthy employees improving their productivity. There's a realisation it is important and it's cheap to implement"

"There have been no real interventions previously in the workplace - it's a new fresh idea"

"Taking part in this initiative has instilled confidence within the team"

"We were able to show that we are committed to the well-being of our staff. The programme also highlighted where we can offer further help to our staff. It has been a worthwhile initiative to complete as an organisation and we are really pleased to show our commitment to our staffs well being."

"Worthwhile programme, found the process easy to follow and well delivered by Health@Work, we are thrilled to have achieved the Charter" "I found the Charter process really easy to follow and I was really impressed with the support I received from Health@Work, they were really flexible, professional and extremely helpful"

"The process was really quite straight forward; the evidence produced was scrutinised by Health@Work, who helped coach us in the right direction to ensure completion of the Charter."

"Since achieving an 'Excellence' rating, HMP Liverpool have encouraged prison service employees and prisoners to stay fit and well, identify potential health problems, improving staff morale and effectiveness and reducing sickness absence levels"

What the employees have to say...

- 1 in 3 stated the programme had made a great deal or noticeable difference to their health and wellbeing
- Another 1 in 3 felt the programme had made some difference
- That is 20,000 people! Or 17% of the full time employees in Liverpool!

Why do we need workplace health and well-being programmes?

131 million days were lost due to sickness absences in the UK in 2011. [Source: Office of National Statistics Sickness Absence in the Labour Market, April 2012]

For many organisations the cost of absenteeism alone can be huge. Below are some examples based on 2011 from the Chartered Institute of Personal Development's Absence Survey Report.

Public Services

In the public sector the average days lost per employee per year is 9.6 and the average cost per employee per year is £889. An organisation in this sector employing 1000 people will have a cost of absenteeism of around £889,000.

Production and Manufacturing

In the production and manufacturing sector the average days lost per employee per year is 6.5 and the average cost per employee per year is £754. An organisation in this sector employing 250 people will have a cost of absenteeism of around £188,500.

Call Centre

In the call centres the average days lost per employee per year is 12.4 and the average cost per employee per year is £940. An organisation in this sector employing 250 people will have a cost of absenteeism of around £235,000.

Professional Services

In the professional services sector the average days lost per employee per year is 5.1 and the average cost per employee per year is £904. An organisation in this sector employing 50 people will have a cost of absenteeism of around £45,200.

Evidence suggests the cost benefit ratio for programmes targeting absenteeism is between 2.5 and 10.1. [Source: Nice Synopsis of Evidence]

Physical activity programmes at work have been found to reduce absenteeism by up to 20%: Physically active workers take 27% fewer sick days. [Source: Department of Health research July 2011]

Beyond Liverpool

The Workplace Wellbeing Charter, designed and developed in Liverpool, was adopted in its entirety as the national model and endorsed by Dame Carol Black the National Director for Health and Work.

The Charter is now recognised across the UK and is being actively delivered in many areas. Health@Work works alongside partners across Merseyside, Greater Manchester, Lancashire, the South West, Bristol, Coventry, London and the North East. Training, advice and consultancy have been delivered to disseminate the experience Liverpool has in the promotion and implementation of the Workplace Wellbeing Charter.
