

PART A - Initial Equality Screening Assessment

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality and diversity.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provide a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality and diversity
- whether or not equality and diversity is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an Equality Analysis (Part B).

Further information is available in the Equality Screening and Analysis Guidance – see page 9.

A statement of common ground between several local planning authorities on strategic land use planning issues.

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

The Sheffield City Region local planning authorities have worked together on a Statement of Common Ground. The statement covers strategic planning issues such as the broad number of new homes to be planned for across the city region and the employment land required to meet job growth targets. The statement, while not a strategy in itself, will be valuable to individual local planning authorities in taking their local plans through the government examination process. It will help demonstrate that a local planning authority has met the statutory “duty to cooperate” with neighbouring authorities and bodies in preparing its local plan.

3. Relevance to equality and diversity

All the Council’s strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – borough wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality and diversity.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, disability, sex, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, civil partnerships and marriage, pregnancy and maternity and other socio-economic groups e.g. parents, single parents and guardians, carers, looked after children, unemployed and people on low incomes, ex-offenders, victims of domestic violence, homeless people etc.

Questions	Yes	No
Could the proposal have implications regarding the accessibility of services to the whole or wider community? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)		✓
Could the proposal affect service users? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)		✓
Has there been or is there likely to be an impact on an individual or group with protected characteristics? (Consider potential discrimination, harassment or victimisation of individuals with protected characteristics)		✓
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns regarding the proposal? (It is important that the Council is transparent and consultation is carried out with members of the public to help mitigate future challenge)		✓
Could the proposal affect how the Council’s services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from commissioning or procurement)		✓
Could the proposal affect the Council’s workforce or employment practices? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from your HR business partner)		✓

If you have answered no to all the questions above, please explain the reason

The statement is a high level document that indicates in very broad terms how the targets for new homes and jobs across the city region will be met. It concludes that each local planning authority will meet its own needs within individual local authority boundaries, without any need for the redistribution of growth between authorities. The statement does not set targets for local planning authorities, it reflects the existing targets that each authority is already planning for through adopted and emerging local plans. It demonstrates that, in aggregate, these local plan targets will meet the wider needs of the city region as a whole.

As such, the statement does not directly affect the considerations and characteristics set out for screening. Individual local plans may affect these characteristics, in how they translate targets into development sites and policies, and are subject to their own screening and assessment process. For example, the adopted Rotherham Local Plan was subject to an Integrated Impact Assessment as part of its drafting, which considered the plan's effect on equalities and diversity. This is a separate process to the Sheffield City Region Statement of Common Ground.

If you have answered no to all the questions above please complete sections 5 and 6.

If you have answered yes to any of the above please complete section 4.

4. Considering the impact on equality and diversity

If you have not already done so, the impact on equality and diversity should be considered within your proposals before decisions are made.

Considering equality and diversity will help to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and take active steps to create a discrimination free society by meeting a group or individual's needs and encouraging participation.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below using the prompts for guidance and complete an Equality Analysis (Part B).

- How have you considered equality and diversity?

(think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

- Key findings

(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

- Actions

(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/reduce negative impact)
