

Appendix 3

PART A - Initial Equality Screening Assessment

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality and diversity.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provide a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality and diversity
- whether or not equality and diversity is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an Equality Analysis (Part B).

Further information is available in the Equality Screening and Analysis Guidance – see page 9.

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening
The report provides details of the update of the Council’s General Enforcement Policy. The Council is required to review and revise the existing Policy periodically in accordance with legislative requirements and in line with the Regulators’ Code .

3. Relevance to equality and diversity

All the Council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – borough wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality and diversity.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, disability, sex, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, civil partnerships and marriage, pregnancy and maternity and other socio-economic groups e.g. parents, single parents and guardians, carers, looked after children, unemployed and people on low incomes, ex-offenders, victims of domestic violence, homeless people etc.

Questions	Yes	No
Could the proposal have implications regarding the accessibility of services to the whole or wider community? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)		√
Could the proposal affect service users? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)		√
Has there been or is there likely to be an impact on an individual or group with protected characteristics? (Consider potential discrimination, harassment or victimisation of individuals with protected characteristics)		√
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns regarding the proposal? (It is important that the Council is transparent and consultation is carried out with members of the public to help mitigate future challenge)		√
Could the proposal affect how the Council's services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from commissioning or procurement)		√
Could the proposal affect the Council's workforce or employment practices? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from your HR business partner)		√

If you have answered no to all the questions above, please explain the reason

The requirement to abide by the Regulators' Code is a statutory obligation covered by national legislation and guidance

If you have answered no to all the questions above please complete sections 5 and 6.

If you have answered yes to any of the above please complete section 4.

4. Considering the impact on equality and diversity

If you have not already done so, the impact on equality and diversity should be considered within your proposals before decisions are made.

Considering equality and diversity will help to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and take active steps to create a discrimination free society by meeting a group or individual's needs and encouraging participation.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below using the prompts for guidance and complete an Equality Analysis (Part B).

- How have you considered equality and diversity?

The General Enforcement Policy sets out the Council will comply with the Regulators' Code. The services recognise the importance of equality and diversity, ensuring that regulatory and enforcement functions delivered are available for all residents, businesses and visitors to the Borough in a way that is:

- Proportionate
- Accountable
- Consistent
- Transparent
- Targeted

- Key findings

The report details findings from the consultation with key stakeholders including the public and businesses, and the revised General Enforcement Policy has considered all comments received and made the necessary changes.

- Actions

The regulators' Code and subsequently the General Enforcement Policy ensures standards are established in relation to most of the Council's regulatory and enforcement functions. These standards are legal obligations based on national legislation and guidance.
