

PART A - Initial Equality Screening Assessment

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality and diversity.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provide a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality and diversity
- whether or not equality and diversity is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an Equality Analysis (Part B).

Further information is available in the Equality Screening and Analysis Guidance – see page 9.

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening
A proposal to deliver a proof of concept aimed at reducing economic activity in the borough through systemic change bringing together health, employment and skills services.
Underpinned by a DWP funded programme aiming to support 400 economically inactive residents into work during 2025/26.

3. Relevance to equality and diversity
All the Council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – borough wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality and diversity.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, disability, sex, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, civil partnerships and marriage, pregnancy and maternity and other socio-economic groups e.g. parents, single parents and guardians, carers, looked after children, unemployed and people on low incomes, ex-offenders, victims of domestic violence, homeless people etc.

Questions	Yes	No
Could the proposal have implications regarding the accessibility of services to the whole or wider community? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)	X
Could the proposal affect service users? (Be mindful that this is not just about numbers. A potential to affect a small number of people in a significant way is as important)	X
Has there been or is there likely to be an impact on an individual or group with protected characteristics? (Consider potential discrimination, harassment or victimisation of individuals with protected characteristics)	X
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns regarding the proposal? (It is important that the Council is transparent and consultation is carried out with members of the public to help mitigate future challenge)	X
Could the proposal affect how the Council's services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from commissioning or procurement)	X
Could the proposal affect the Council's workforce or employment practices? (If the answer is yes you may wish to seek advice from your HR business partner)	X
If you have answered no to all the questions above, please explain the reason

If you have answered no to all the questions above please complete sections 5 and 6.

If you have answered yes to any of the above please complete section 4.

4. Considering the impact on equality and diversity

If you have not already done so, the impact on equality and diversity should be considered within your proposals before decisions are made.

Considering equality and diversity will help to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and take active steps to create a discrimination free society by meeting a group or individual's needs and encouraging participation.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below using the prompts for guidance and complete an Equality Analysis (Part B).

- How have you considered equality and diversity?

The Economic Inactivity Trailblazer will aim to assist a cohort of residents who are typically disadvantaged and caught in a cycle of low income, poor access to services, poor health and low aspiration. The programme aims to break the inertia of economic inactivity by providing hyper-local and specialist employment support, delivered sensitively in non-threatening environments, and by activating employers to create viable, appealing job opportunities for residents who currently think work is not for them. The programme will target economically inactive residents across a range of sub-cohorts, including, those with disabilities and health conditions (who are significantly less likely to work), ethnic minority groups (who are over-represented among economically inactive people), young people who are not in employment, education or training (NEET), to include care leavers, carers and those from households experiencing inter-generational inactivity or unemployment.

- Key findings

Around 1 in 4 individuals in the UK are not working. In Rotherham the number is 46,600 (ONS March 2024) which is nearer to 1 in 3 of the working age population.

The current system supporting people back into work is fragmented, making it complex and confusing for individuals and employers

Economically inactive people are concentrated in the borough's poorest communities and among minority groups

There is no one experience of 'economic inactivity'.

The term 'economic inactivity' simplifies the diversity of experiences and people, and the blurred lines between health, care and other barriers.

The severity of the impacts of experiencing 'economic inactivity' is connected to individual's resource, situation, and support networks.

- Actions

Include 1:1 support for disadvantaged and under-serviced residents to deliver an individual-centric, strengths based, trauma-informed personalised service, predominantly through a keyworker model, that connects those who are economically inactive to the myriad ecosystem of support services. Every personalised support journey will be unique, working towards sustained employment that aligns with the complex needs of each individual.

Programme to include a targeted hyper local approach to engagement using trusted VCS partners with lived experience to capture the needs of priority cohorts. This alongside a robust triage operation will ensure support services will be focussed on tackling these multiple barriers those with the greatest needs often face.

Explore opportunities to strengthen data and information flows to support a flexible, responsive system which can deploy resources in line with available evidence and support effective interventions through data sharing.
